

Please Join

Destination Wellness

Free Interactive Virtual Symposium:

TUESDAY NOV.
10th
12:30–2pm
MST

Please contact
Tim Tokarski
505.463.1225
or Mary Spring
520.304.5151
with questions.

“The Road to Addressing Cancer Disparities in Native American Communities”

KEYNOTE SPEAKER
Dr. Marc Aaron Emerson
Moderator: Kelly Noble
and a distinguished Native American panel

Register online at:
<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/conquering-cancer-health-disparities-in-native-american-communities-tickets-123045704013>

Casa Esperanza provides direct and vital services, assistance, and support to low-to-moderate income, medically underserved rural families who are staying in Albuquerque for medical evaluation and treatment. Native Americans are the largest population supported by Casa Esperanza, New Mexico’s “House of Hope”, who recognizes first-hand the healthcare inequities faced by Native Americans.

COVID 19 has brought to light the disparities in healthcare in our Native American communities, and the need to work together to bridge this healthcare gap.

Casa Esperanza is partnering with The American Cancer Society for a FREE VIRTUAL, INTERACTIVE SYMPOSIUM addressing cancer disparities and specific healthcare inequities faced by Native Americans on:

Tuesday November 10, 2020 from 12:30pm – 2:00pm MST on Microsoft Teams

The symposium will feature keynote speaker Dr. Marc Emerson, moderator Kelly Noble and a distinguished Native American panel including a tribal policy leader, a Community Health Representative, a behavioral health specialist and a cancer patient/survivor.

Dr. Emerson who is with the Johns Hopkins Center for American Indian Health will share his work on the barriers to cancer screening and the opportunities to improve the continuum of care for American Indian people in communities which are often isolated and underserved.

You can attend by registering for this free Symposium by clicking the link below:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/conquering-cancer-health-disparities-in-native-american-communities-tickets-123045704013?aff=ebdssbonlinesearch>

Please pass this on to people you think would be interested in attending this important Symposium!